

Week 9

- Raising versus control
- Non-finite clauses and case
- Types of embedded clauses; complementizers

Next:

- More on CP, wh-movement

(1) Meg wants to be happy.

(2) Meg is considered to be an expert.

Classify the following verbs (italicized parts) as raising vs control:

Meg is likely to come to class.	Meg is certain to come to class.	Meg is believed to be leaving.
Meg decided to come to class.	Meg tends to come to class.	Meg threatened to leave.
Meg arranged to be in prize.	Meg attempted to leave.	Meg refuses to leave.
Meg expects to win a prize.	Meg requested to leave.	Meg is eager to leave.
Meg is starting to leave.	Meg promised to leave.	Meg is sorry to be leaving.
Meg is lucky to win a prize.	Meg is unlikely to win a prize.	Meg appears to be leaving.